AMERICA FOR AMERICAN AMERICANS

In 1890 William McKinley was chosen to office in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William Wilson was elected in London because he is the author of a Free-Trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

Your attention is called to the Master Commissionnaire's notice in this issue.

Don't forget the first "Recital" of the Grand Jury of the United States at the Opera house this evening. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 35 cents. Everybody go.

The funeral of little Charley Devins occurred this morning at St. Patrick's Church on Lexington street. The remains of St. John's Drum Corps, of which he was a member, acted as pallbearers.

The Independent of New York, for the last week in March, will contain an article on Kentucky's advantages by Representative McCreary. The issue will contain a number of articles by well known men on the industrial advantages of the South.

That staunch old Methodist, John Wesley, once said: "Give me a hundred men who fear nothing but God, but nothing but sin, and are determined to know nothing among men but Jesus Christ and Him crucified, and I will set the world on fire with them."

As a Knox county man and his wife were passing the schoolhouse a flying snowball hit the wife of his broom. He was enraged and he threatened to hit the schoolboys, shaking his fist in anger, he cried: "I'm lucky for you, you young rascals, that you didn't hit me!"

The Grand Jury of Logan county returned an indictment for willful murder against William Johnson, who is alleged to have killed James Johnson at South Union a few weeks ago. The grand jury of Johnson's people shot him by the victim's side in order to create an impression that it was a case of suicide. Thirty indictments in all were returned by the Grand Jury during the session.

In the absence of Judge Hutchins yesterday, caused by the death of his mother, Mrs. Evelyn Hutchins, Squibb & Co., by authority of the statute filed the vacancy. The following orders were made:

The liquor license of John Dorch & Co. was transferred to H. H. Bramlette. Jesse Scott, colored, a hanger, was sent to the County Infirmary.

A NARROW ESCAPE.
Miss Nellie Pratt Received a Very Fatal Fall Friday.

Nellie, the little three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pratt, who reside in the West End, narrowly escaped a broken limb, if not death, Friday afternoon.

The little one was swinging in a hammock, when the staple that held one end of it to the ceiling gave out.

The child was dashed to the floor, where she was found a moment later unconscious.

She remained in that condition for several hours, but on being revived was found to be only slightly hurt.

Don't Stop Tobacco-Hunt in Louisville Yourself! Buy It Here!

The tobacco habit grows on a man and it is a nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To suddenly stop is to suffer a shock in the system, as tobacco, to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system has grown used to. It is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of the famous Dr. J. C. Smith, who has used it in his private practice since 1875, without a failure, purely vegetable and non-habit-forming. that is the date of a letter from Mr. JAS. E. Brown, 524 Pacific Ave., Dallas, Tex.—He lost his strength from overwork, like so many others, and took

Brown's Iron Bitters.

He says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the best medicine I have ever taken. I had been suffering for a year from extreme weakness, caused by overwork, and two bottles renewed my strength entirely. I am glad to say so."

Not a miracle, but just another cure brought about by Brown's Iron Bitters. Do you take it?

Over 1,000 people are said to have flocked to death in the United States during the recent cold weather.

Labor unions in New York, representing 110,000 workers, are preparing to petition the Legislature for more liberal Sunday laws.

The female weavers at the Owensboro Woollen Mills are on a strike. The women are said to be a 10 per cent. cut in their wages will not be restored.

The following item appeared in Saturday's Chicago Commonwealth: "Of the clergies, there is dire need for missionary labor in Zaire, Asia, Africa, South America, Australia and New Jersey. There is need for mission work everywhere except right here. Yet there is a family named Deatley of Bath county, seven in number, six of whom, the father and five sons, were imprisoned in the penitentiary for life yesterday, some for conspiring to murder a man named Mark Kistner, and some for other crimes."

Will Deatley, a son, for the actual killing. The dispatches, which told the story pathetically, concluded with the statement that the "only one of the family left in the world was the old mother, 'God help her!' Of course there isn't a bit of need for missionary work in Kentucky, no need for more churches and schools. Of course not. The heathen of North Carolina need all the attention. But a father with his five sons wearing the garb of felons for life is an object lesson that might indicate another view of the matters at the corner view."

INCOME TAX.

The Astounding Declaration of a Man Well Posted.

Provisions of the Law May Be Difficult in Being Carried Out.

Deputy Collectors Can Not Lawfully Discharge the Duties Attempted to be Imposed Upon Them.—An Interview with Mr. J. H. Brown.

New York, March 5.—Having been informed that Mr. Thomas Harland, who was deputy commissioner of internal revenue while the former law imposing an income tax was in force, thought it doubtful whether the government could collect the tax imposed by the recent law, Monday a reporter was sent to get his views.

Mr. Harland said: "An examination of the provisions of the recent law for the assessment and collection of an income tax led me to the conclusion that it was extremely doubtful whether the government could successfully collect the tax if the taxpayers generally should stand upon their rights. As, however, any taxpayer who should set his views would subject himself to a penalty if the law should prove unenforced, I hesitated to advise any one to set on it until I had consulted other experts. I have now discussed the matter with many of the most prominent lawyers in the city, and I am of the opinion that they generally concur in my views."

"I have not undertaken in this interview to give authorities for the several positions, but an examination of the authorities will convince any lawyer."

"First, That the deputy collectors can not lawfully discharge the duties attempted to be imposed upon them by the law."

"Second, That it is the duty of the collector to seek the taxpayer to seek the collector in the first instance."

"Third, That the taxpayer may lawfully impose upon the collector the duty of making his return, instead of making it himself."

TERIBLY TORTURED.
Aged Man and Wife Robbed of a Large Sum of Money.

Toledo, O., March 5.—A blacksmith is an aged former resident about 40 miles northwest of Toledo, not far from the state line. Last Saturday night the family was aroused by a knocking at the rear door. A fourteen-year-old daughter unfurnished the door. As she did so it was slammed violently against her and four male men pushed inside, two of them seized, binding and gagging the girl. The old man and his wife were left to their own devices. As the men were leaving, the woman was gagged and tied down to a lounge. The old man was left to his own devices. The woman was gagged and tied down to a lounge. Memphis, Tenn., March 5.—The movement of southern Negroes to Africa will begin Thursday next under the auspices of the International Migration society, of this city, when a special train will leave Memphis for Savannah via Birmingham and Atlanta. Three hundred Negroes from Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia have arranged to go on it. The African Steamship Co., which is co-operating with the International Migration society, will run a steamer from Savannah to Liberia, sailing on the 20th. The committee of Negro ministers who went to Liberia in January to invite that country will be back giving letters, and the Negroes are greatly wrought up over the idea of going to the Dark Continent, and many are preparing to go during the year.

ADJOURNED SINE DIE.

With the Hands of the Clock Pointing to Twelve O'clock the Fifty-Fifth Congress Dies.

Washington, March 5.—At exactly 12 o'clock noon the senate adjourned sine die. Promptly at noon Speaker Crisp declared the house adjourned sine die. It was 4 o'clock Monday morning before the senate met. Members of congress agreed to take a recess until after breakfast. The work on the appropriations bills was finished, and all of them had come from conference, has been reported and agreed to, the last one to pass being the naval bill, which was passed by the senate shortly before 4 o'clock. Although worn out with their hard work, Senator Platt, of Connecticut, managed to keep the senate long enough in session to pass the Cover copyright bill, which got through the house some days ago.

Only three senators, Manderson, Pettigrew and Mitchell, of Wisconsin, were at their desks when the vice president rapped for order at 9 o'clock Monday, after a recess of less than five hours.

Litt was done before 11 o'clock, unanimous consent having been given to confine the business to conference agreements.

At 10:15 Mr. Voorhees offered a resolution, which was adopted for the appointment of a joint committee of the two houses, two senators and two members to wait upon the president of the United States and inform him that Congress, having completed its business, was ready to adjourn. The vice president named Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Sherman as the senate members of the committee.

At 11:40, with only twenty minutes remaining, a joint resolution was passed as to compensation of employees. A messenger dashed away with it in haste to get to the white house and secure the president's signature within twenty minutes.

The thanks of the senate were expressed in a resolution offered by Mr. Manderson for the courtesy and impartiality with which Mr. Harris had served as president pro tem. of the senate.

Mr. Harris then took the chair and returned his thanks for the flattering resolutions.

At twelve minutes to twelve the last enrolled bill was reported to the senate as signed by the vice president, but impossible to get the executive signature on time.

At this moment Mr. Voorhees and Mr. Sherman, the senate committee members, were waiting in the president's study.

"The committee has waited on the president," Mr. Sherman said, "and has notified him that the work of congress was at an end. The president states that he has no further communications to make to congress on the conclusions of its labors."

The senate bill appropriating $300,000 for the widening of the channel across the bar of the Savannah river was passed by the house Monday night.

At 10 o'clock on re-assembling the usual committee, consisting of Messrs. Matthews, Outwater and Reed, were waiting on the president's study.
